

Quinta de
Lemos

Quinta de Lemos is the result of a man's dream - Celso de Lemos - to create an exceptional wine of quality and excellence at the level of the best in the world. The dream began to take shape by acquiring a vineyard in Silgueiros - Viseu in the 1990s.

Quinta de Lemos is located in the Dão Valley at an altitude of 340 meters. The property consists of 50 hectares, of which 25 hectares are vineyards of endogenous grape varieties, 10 hectares of which biodynamically managed. The region has the perfect climatic conditions for wines of excellence. Granite and sandy soils characterize this oldest wine region of Portugal, well protected through four large mountains - Estrela, Caramulo, Buçaco and Nave.

QUINTA DE LEMOS GRAPE VARIETIES, THE ESSENCE OF DÃO

One of the characteristics that make Quinta de Lemos wines so special is its dependence on endogenous grape varieties:

TOURIGA NACIONAL - typical portuguese grape, fruity, robust with a high tannin content and aromas of blackberries, bergamot and violet flowers.

TINTA RORIZ - with deep dark color and elegant taste, fruity aroma with a hint of raspberry and spices.

JAEN - a delicate grape variety with an intense aroma of blueberries, blackberries, strawberries and resinous flowers. Its elegant character and sustainability make it an unforgettable wine.

ALFROCHEIRO - grape variety that gives a unique velvety by aging. It has an aroma of gooseberries, bananas and jasmine flowers, quite pronounced with a very persistent red-garnet color.

PRIZES AND AWARDS

Quinta de Lemos has been distinguished since its inception, but it was in 2013 that it received one of the most emblematic awards worldwide: Gold Medal, Portuguese Red Trophy and Dão Trophy, for the Dona Georgina 2005 at the International Wine Challenge (IWC).

At the IWC it won the special prize James Rogers Trophy 2013, which is awarded to the best wine in the first year of production. For this reason, Dona Georgina 2005 was named one of the five best wines in the world.

Robert Parker, an internationally recognized wine critic, rated all the wines from the harvest 2011 and 2012 with more than 91 points.

“MESA DE LEMOS” RESTAURANT

In perfect harmony with nature, the vineyards of Quinta de Lemos and the tranquility of the sloping landscape, Mesa de Lemos offers its guests a gastronomic voyage. Captivating the essence of Portuguese ingredients in pure, simple and delicious dishes harmonized exclusively with Quinta de Lemos wines, the restaurant was awarded a Michelin Star in November 2019.

A wonderful reward for this project highlighting it as a gastronomic reference of the region.
